16TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When he disembarked and saw the vast crowd, his heart
was moved with pity for them,
for they were like sheep
without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things. - Mk 6:34

Year-To-Date 7/1/24—7/7/24

In today's Gospel, Jesus had planned to slip away from the crowds for a few moments of peace and a little rest. When He saw the people gathered, however, He put His needs aside to meet the needs of others. Sometimes, as good stewards, we are called to do the same.

THINK ABOUT LIFE...

Sometimes you hear people argue that abortion should be legal if the baby would have a low quality of life. When people make this argument, the first question to ask is, “Wait a minute... what do you mean by ‘quality of life?’” Usually they’re talking about babies who will be disabled or poor. But having a disability doesn’t mean someone is going to have a low quality of life, and neither does being poor.

If we believe that quality of life comes from having physical health and money, then the less of these things we have, the more likely we are to think we have a low quality of life. But Christians believe that a greater quality of life can be experienced by giving and receiving faith, hope, and love, and all of the virtues that go along with them.

This doesn’t mean that we shouldn’t care about tending to the material needs of others. Poverty, illness, disabilities, and physical defects can be serious burdens for the people who experience them, and everyone has a responsibility to help ease their burdens. But killing unborn people because they might be born poor, ill, disabled, or with a physical defect makes as much sense as lining up all born people who have the same conditions and killing them because we think they have a “low quality of life.”

First of all, one person should never be allowed to decide what kind of quality and worth another person’s life has. Secondly, just because someone is born poor does not mean she has to stay poor, and just because someone is disabled doesn’t mean he can’t participate in any of the human activities that make life worth living. Thirdly, which of the following is truly compassionate – helping people reach a better quality of life, or killing people who are in need because we think their lives don’t have any value?

Mother Teresa (now known as Saint Teresa of Calcutta) was a Catholic nun who lived in Calcutta, India, and took care of tens of thousands of the poorest and sickest people on earth for over 45 years. But she once said that America is the poorest country in the world because we do not know how to love. She is attributed with saying, “It is a poverty to decide that a child must die so that you may live as you wish.” Another side of the “quality of life” argument is the claim that abortion is justifiable for babies who are diagnosed with terminal illnesses. After all, they are going to die anyway, so what kind of quality of life can they possibly have?

First, it is very difficult for doctors to predict exactly when someone is going to die, and they are frequently wrong.

Secondly, if you really think about it, it isn’t fair to condemn someone to death because “they are going to die anyway.” You are going to die someday, too. That would not be a good excuse for someone to kill you now. Recall Mary at the foot of the cross. She knew her son was going to die, but she didn’t run around begging the Roman soldiers to “put Him out of His misery.” She stayed with Jesus out of love, commitment, care, and compassion, recognizing that His life had a purpose even to the very end.

Thirdly, just because someone may soon die doesn’t mean that person cannot experience a high quality of life. Quality of life is not ultimately about how long you live; it’s about experiencing and participating in love. If every person is loved and wanted by Jesus, then wouldn’t every unborn child in some way be able to experience the highest quality of life – even those who are diagnosed with terminal illnesses and may not live very long? If we worked as hard to love and want every unborn child as some people work to keep abortion legal, we could help those children experience a very high quality of life, indeed.

STATEMENT REGARDING NEW BISHOP OF RAPID CITY

SAINT PAUL & MINNEAPOLIS

United in Faith, Hope and Love

From Archbishop Bernard A. Hebda

I rejoice with the Church in western South Dakota over Pope Francis' appointment of Bishop-elect Scott Bullock as the new bishop of Rapid City. I have admired him since our time as seminarians together, more than 35 years ago. I know that he brings to our Province great priestly zeal and a wealth of ministerial experience, gained over his decades of selfless service in the Archdiocese of Dubuque. I am grateful that Pope Francis has recognized in Bishop-elect Bullock the gifts needed to build upon the legacy of Bishop Peter Muhich and his illustrious predecessors. I know that the new bishop will find the Diocese of Rapid City to be a vibrant faith community, and I look forward to collaborating with him in the years to come.
