THINK ABOUT LIFE...

Sometimes you hear people argue that abortion should be legal if the family would experience lower quality of life because of the baby's birth. The example might be given that a family will not be able to support another child and will become even poorer. But it is never justifiable to kill some innocent people in order to improve the condition of other people.

If the issue is poverty, we wouldn't encourage a poor mother with eight children to kill the oldest three who eat the most. So encouraging her to kill the youngest and most vulnerable child – the one in her womb – does not make any sense.

People may be poor for different reasons. Sometimes they lack the education or the opportunity to succeed. Sometimes they live in an economically depressed area and cannot find adequate jobs. Sometimes they make poor decisions – like dropping out of school or using drugs, which limit their opportunities later. In some instances, they are oppressed by negligent, greedy, or power-hungry employers or governments. And in other circumstances, their nations are torn by war and conflict. Oftentimes, those around them who are better off do not provide the assistance and care that they could and should. But regardless of the reason, it is not fair to blame the unborn child for the problems that adults create. Besides, abortion does not solve any of these problems. Abortion has been legal in most places in the world for over 40 years, yet there is no evidence that it has reduced poverty.

From a quality of life point of view, it is important to deeply consider what we mean by "poverty." It is very rare in the Western world for anybody to starve to death because they have too many children. In fact, it's doubtful that this has ever happened in the United States in contemporary times. Having children can certainly make things economically difficult. If a family has several children, they will usually make many material sacrifices that other families don't have to make. But it generally does not mean that anyone will have to starve to death. Our generous nation has many religious and social programs that prevent something like that from happening. So the real question becomes: should one person have to die so that other people don't have to sacrifice material quality of life? If we answer, "No," then we should do everything we can to eliminate poverty, while fiercely protecting the lives of those who are most vulnerable.

START THINKING ABOUT THIS FALL

Summer is a fantastic season we should fully enjoy as we do not always have this lovely weather here in Minnesota! However, here at the end of July it is not too early to start thinking about this fall. As you print out your kids' school supply lists (do people still print them out these days?), you should also get out your calendar. The sign up periods for many ministries are opening up in the next couple of months. Does your child need to be signed up for Faith Formation? Do you want to sign up to be a catechist? Does anyone in your family want to serve for the Mass? If you plan for these things being on your calendar now, you will have a smoother transition into fall. Pay attention in the next few months as ministries begin to advertise their needs and commitments. You may be able to do more than you thought.

CANTORS FOR MASS

Have you ever thought about becoming a cantor? Summer is a great time to start! We are looking for new cantors for both Guardian Angels and Saint Nicholas. You will get trained in on how to lead the congregation in joyful praise to the Lord!

STATEMENT REGARDING NEW BISHOP OF RAPID CITY

ARCHDIOCESE
SAINT PAUL &
MINNEAPOLIS

United in Faith, Hope and Love

From Archbishop Bernard A. Hebda

I rejoice with the Church in western South Dakota over Pope Francis' appointment of Bishop-elect Scott Bullock as the new bishop of Rapid City. I have admired him since our time as seminarians together, more than 35 years ago. I know that he brings to our Province great priestly zeal and a wealth of ministerial experience, gained over his decades of selfless service in the Archdiocese of Dubuque. I am grateful that Pope Francis has recognized in Bishop-elect Bullock the gifts needed to build upon the legacy of Bishop Peter Muhich and his illustrious predecessors. I know that the new bishop will find the Diocese of Rapid City to be a vibrant faith community, and I look forward to collaborating with him in the years to come.
